- With worksheets in one hand and the other hand raised, students circulate through the room till they find a partner.
- In pairs, Partner A asks a question from the worksheet, Partner B responds. Partner A records the answer on his or her own worksheet.
- They swap their roles and Partner B asks a question, Partner A responds. Partner B records the answer on his or her own worksheet.
- They circulate again and do the same. They can do a few rounds till they complete their worksheets.
